

Timely Times

May 2002

Newborn Kidnapped by Pod-Baby

Emergency Meeting Called

Two first-time parents are inviting friends to join them in searching for their newborn baby, last seen about 12 months ago.

The meeting will take place after morning sleeps at 11. a.m., Saturday 25 May, 28 Brighton Street, Leederville.

Abby Elisabeth Bachrach-Cox (Hebrew name Avigail) is suspected to have been kidnapped by a look-alike "pod-Abby".

Has anyone seen this baby? Abby Elisabeth Bachrach-Cox, a.k.a. Floppity-Moppet, Abbycadabera, Her Royal Highness Princess Timely of Brighton Street, Sparkle, and Abby-dabadoo, is missing, last seen almost one year ago.

Claim at Identity Lacks Teeth

"We can see a strong resemblance, but the differences are a real give away," says Amy Bachrach, Abby's mother. "For example: this baby has six teeth where ours had, well, none at all. That's not to say that her gums couldn't hurt when she clamped down, but it's really not the same thing when it comes to breastfeeding time. Trust me on this."

Other suspicious differences include:

Newborn Abby sported a white wicker pram and bassinette; Pod-Abby sleeps in a wooden cot and modern stroller;

Newborn Abby weighed 3.3 kilos and her parents could carry her around in a little pouch; Pod-Abby weighs almost 8 kilos.

Newborn Abby had travelled only the Birth Canal, while Pod-Abby has traversed the Indian and Atlantic Oceans.

Parents Have Faith

"We have complete confidence that this mystery will be solved with a little help from our friends," Abby's father Simon said.

As proof of their faith, the parents are asking those attending to bring to the meeting funny memories, photos, letters, prayers, or items associated with Abby's birth or first year to be included in a Timely Capsule for her to open when she's bat mitzvah (12 years old.)

Amy and Simon have provided the photo of Pod-Abby (shown below) to help with the search. It is thought that a strong resemblance would exist with the original Abby.

Pod-Abby, thought to be impersonating the Bachrach-Cox baby.